CHARTER OAK STATE COLLEGE NEWSLETTER

SPRING 2018 VOL. XLIII NO. 1

Charter Oak State College Foundation Celebrates 40 Years

Dean Rhoden, the R. Wayne Clugston Scholarship recipient, was selected from a pool of 33 applicants. Dean came to the U.S. in 2009 from Jamaica desirous of the American Dream. He earned his Associates' degree and is working towards his Bachelor's while transforming lives of young men in the city of Hartford as a Boy Scout Leader, plus working and caring for a family.

The Charter Oak State College Foundation celebrated its 40th anniversary of helping students meet their educational goals with an evening of scholarship recognition and national speaker Jeff Lanza. The event, held Monday, November 13th at the Back Nine Tavern in New Britain, CT, offered guests a chance to celebrate the milestone, learn about personal online safety, and recognize scholarship recipients.

The evening characterized the Foundation's mission to assist deserving adult students with college costs by awarding scholarships and grants, and encouraging technological initiatives that enable the College to be a leader in higher education.

Guests included Board members of both the Foundation and the Alumni Association, along with Charter Oak staff and faculty, benefactors, donors, friends of the College and students. A feeling of homecoming was in the air as alumni, professors, students, and advisors connected.

Retired FBI Agent, national speaker, and Connecticut native, Jeff Lanza provided an entertaining and informative presentation on the fundamentals of personal cyber protection and cyber fraud prevention. His presentation was also prerecorded for use in an online presentation that will be made available free to the public through the Foundation's Rankin Chair Technology Fund and through the generous support of our event sponsors: Liberty Bank, Community Partner of the cyber safety presentation; Calculus of Talent, LLC, and the Law Offices of Sheffy, Mazzaccaro, DePaolo & DeNigris, LLP, Corporate Sponsors; and, COSC Alumni Association, Reception Sponsor. A portion of each guest's ticket also contributed to the fundraising efforts and will be used to benefit the Student Crisis Fund Endowment.

The Student Crisis Fund provides students with immediate relief from unexpected financial burdens which, in turn, affords them the opportunity to stay the course, complete their degree, and enhance their

THE PRESIDENT'S TAKE

I would like to use my column in Connections to share a unique story about some of my favorite Charter Oak alumni.

Charter Oak was created to offer adult students an efficient path to degree completion. Its early history consisted of creating processes that permitted adults to bring their learning, from whatever its source of origin, to a Charter Oak degree.

The tools of that learning transfer include credit transfer, testing for credit, and portfolios. Across its history, the College has had individuals who used these non-traditional options to complete a degree for a total cost of less than $10,000. The York family has achieved an even more remarkable success than that. I will let Mrs. York explain their strategy in her own words:

A Brief Summary of our Non-traditional Approach to Education

The beginning of our non-traditional approach to education began in 1979 when my husband, David, and I decided to teach our oldest child to read. She was only 4 years old, but we wanted her to read well by the time she entered school. Our reasoning was that this should help her to be more proficient in learning other subject matter. We had never heard of home education.

As she finished first grade, we were given a book entitled, "Teach Your Own" by the author and educator, John Holt. It profoundly affected our thinking. Some of his ideas were more radical than we could embrace, but the general idea was sown in our thinking. We eventually home educated all of our 8 children through high school. Our goal was for them to become confident, creative learners and problem solvers for the rest of their lives.

We had always wanted our children to have an accredited college degree, but we couldn't figure out a solution to the enormous debt that they would incur. However, just as our oldest daughter was thinking of getting married, we heard of Charter Oak State College.

We were thrilled! She was able to use testing, classes, and portfolios to earn her degree in 1 ½ years. Our next two daughters had much the same experience. Their advisors and other staff at COSC were amazingly helpful and supportive.

When our first son began his studies at COSC, he was able to take the required credits he needed to be accepted into a distance learning law school. Four years later, he passed the California bar exam and is now working again on his undergraduate degree at COSC. Three of our last four children have graduated from COSC using various methods including testing. All of them are using their undergraduate degrees as a springboard for their graduate degrees. One is working on a Speech Pathology degree, one on Counseling, and one on a Seminary degree. The last of our children is planning for a June 2019 graduation from COSC.

My own story is a more classic Charter Oak story. I left college after 4 years and 133 credit hours without having earned a degree, to marry and raise a family. Through COSC, I was able to obtain a waiver for the Oral Communications course, test out of 9 general education credits, and complete the Cornerstone and Capstone courses last year. I was able to use enough credits from my previous schooling to completely fulfill my concentration credits. We have been so grateful to have Charter Oak State College in helping our family achieve our educational goals!

York Family Graduates:	Alicia York – 2012
Charissa York Glazner – 2004	Joel York – 2012
Erin York Burgoyne – 2005	Ethan York – 2016
Danielle York Miller – 2006	Brenda York – 2017

This commitment to education is as outstanding as any we have ever encountered. And it demonstrates the mission Charter Oak was created to undertake.

Alumni Association Holiday Happy Hour!

A Holiday Happy Hour was held on December 5, 2017 at the Thomas Hooker Brewery in Bloomfield, CT. Folks gathered to network, socialize, sample beer on tap, and most importantly, dig in and enjoy the BBQ provided by Bear's Smokehouse.

The Alumni Association Board was happy to host this event and helped to defer the cost, keeping registration fees low, and inviting Charter Oak Students, Staff, Faculty, and of course, our Alums.

The Board gathered prior to the social to finalize 2017 and begin planning the New Year. A great surprise to the evening was long-time Board Member and new Board Secretary, Steve Foerster attending in person, all the way from Virginia!

John Thomas, current Board President, was recognized as a life-time member and presented with a Thomas Hooker Pint Glass as a thank you for his commitment to the Alumni Association. One other life-time member on hand also received the commemorative token of appreciation, Angela Klonoski, wife of President Ed Klonoski.

President Klonoski introduced the Alumni to a new Ambassador Program designed to make sharing the Charter Oak degree completion opportunity with friends, colleagues, and others simple and rewarding to Alum. Also, the Board introduced a survey – outlining new opportunities for involvement and requesting feedback regarding social activities.

A good night was had by all - a happy Holiday gathering of Charter Oak Alumni, Students, Staff, and guests.

New friendships were forged that evening, which seemed to end too soon, as folks departed into the cold night wishing each other well and happy holidays, leaving behind fond memories and a desire to get together again soon. 🌿

Connections recently caught up with Stacey Bottone, Class of '03

What led you to Charter Oak State College?

As a non-traditional student caring for my young family and working full time, I wanted to continue my education but had tried going back to college on-ground in the evenings for a few semesters. It was extremely challenging to manage this and be out of the home for so many hours between work and school. I did some research and found out that Charter Oak offered online Associate and Bachelor degrees that would fit my work schedule and allow more time with my family. I enrolled in 2001, and graduated with my Bachelor of Science degree, majoring in Business Administration, in 2003. It was one of the best life decisions I ever made!

What higher education experience did you have prior to enrolling at Charter Oak?

Prior to enrolling at Charter Oak, I was working on my Associate degree at Quinebaug Valley Community College in Danielson, CT. Charter Oak accepted my credits from QVCC and I completed my Bachelor's degree two years later. After graduating from Charter Oak, I went on to earn my MBA from Salve Regina University in 2005, and then a Master of Science in Health Information Management from Kaplan University in 2016. Both of these programs were also 100% online. Charter Oak's program definitely prepared me for being successful in these graduate programs years later.

Has your degree from Charter Oak helped with securing jobs and progression in those jobs?

My degree from Charter Oak absolutely assisted with my career progression. I worked directly in healthcare at medical group practices and hospital settings from 1994-2010. After earning my Bachelor's degree in 2003, I was immediately promoted to Coordinator and Supervisory roles. After earning my MBA, I was then promoted to Practice Manager and Hospital Administrator positions.

In 2008, I had my first experience with teaching in higher education as an adjunct instructor and absolutely loved it. I realized this was my calling. In 2010, I made the career change of leaving the hospital setting and began teaching full time as a Lead Faculty member for a large for-profit university in their Online Division. Again, I was able to take my experiences learned through being a student and the excellent support received during my time at Charter Oak to apply to my new career and their students. In 2012, I had the wonderful opportunity of being hired as an online adjunct instructor here at Charter Oak in the Healthcare Administration and Management programs. I am thrilled to say I am still an active online adjunct faculty member in these programs. I have also had the privilege of being a full-time faculty member at Manchester Community College, Manchester, CT since 2014. I share my fond experiences with my students in our Business Office Technology Medical Associate degree program concerning all that Charter Oak has to offer if they wish to pursue their Bachelor's degree after completing their Associate degree or Medical Certificates from MCC!

Do you feel your degree from Charter Oak truly affected your life and career?

My experience with Charter Oak personally and professionally has been profound. I would never have had the opportunity to continue my education if I did not have the option to complete my degree online. The support that I received from both Academics and Student Services has been exemplary. I enjoyed my experience so much, I am back as a student finishing up my coursework for the Certificate in Health Information Management that is CAHIIM accredited. This will allow me to sit for the Registered Health Information Administrator (RHIA) exam this May offered through the American Health Information Management Association (AHIMA). Charter Oak is one of only a very small handful of online colleges and universities nationwide that is CAHIIM (Commission on Accreditation for Health Informatics and Information Management) accredited. This is a huge feather in Charter Oak's cap! I will be graduating this spring for a second time, which speaks volumes to what this institution stands for and the excellent education they provide.

Personally, is there anything you'd like to share?

I reside in Connecticut with my husband, our 21-year-old son, and three rescues – all Labs! I am very excited to share that our son is a recent graduate of Quinebaug Valley Community College and is now a current student at Charter Oak pursuing his Bachelor of Science degree in Cyber Security! He is really enjoying the program and is noting similar experiences with excellent support from the advising team and his instructors as well as the program in general. I cannot say enough wonderful things about Charter Oak. I will be forever indebted for the doors my education here has opened. 🌱
